DETAILED ACTION

This Office Action is in response to the remarks filed 8/5/05.

Currently, claims 1-17 are pending.

Specification

1. The lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1, 3 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Ng (US 5,994,217, dated 11/30/99).

Ng shows the method as claimed in figure 6 and corresponding text, with Al-Si-Cu formed as interconnects in two recesses with TiN barrier layers 28/24, 34/44/50 between. Clearly, in figure 6, the contact is formed in each of the ILD's to expose the barrier layer

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

6. Claims 2, 4-6, 8-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ng (US 5,994,217, dated 11/30/99).

Ng shows the method substantially as claimed and as described in the preceding paragraph. Additionally, Ng uses BPTEOS oxide or BPSG.

Ng lacks anticipation only in not teaching that an organic ILD layer may be used and that the barrier layers may be formed by electroless plating.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have used an organic ILD layer or a combination of inorganic and organic ILD layers, in the method of Ng, with the motivation that the organic dielectric layer will reduce the capacitance between interconnect devices and allow a custom and efficient alteration of the capacitance to suit the performance needs of the device. Additionally, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have formed the barrier layers by electroless plating, in the method of Ng, with the motivation that electroless plating is a conventional alternative formation process for metal layers, which would yield comparable if not the same results in the device. Also, Ng suggests that the metal layers may be formed by other metal processes (col. 3, lines 65-67; column 4, line 1).

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments filed 8/5/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In response to Applicant's remarks, the prior art shows the method as claimed.

Conclusion

8. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
